Why support the Association of Professors of Dermatology (APD)?

<https://www.dermatologyprofessors.org/>

The APD has evolved to become a core group in the field of Dermatology and it includes the senior leadership of almost all the academic dermatology departments in the United States. Over the years, the membership has expanded to focus not only on the Chairs, but also on Dermatologic Surgeons, Dermatology Administrators, and our Residency Program Directors. These changes solidify the APD as a key leadership group in Dermatology in the United States. It's a great, vibrant and core organization in Dermatology. Our annual meeting gives you the opportunity to partner with us to achieve our goals in our quest to improve Dermatology.
